THE UNDERWRITERS MUTUAL

A New Fire Insurance Company Organized Last Evening.

THE CAPITAL STOCK $80.000.

Fifty Per Cent of Capital Stock Paid in--The Officers and Directors.

In response to a demand from the insuring public, The Underwriters Mutual Fire Insurance Company was organized in this city last evening. The capital stock is $80,000, fifty per cent of which was paid in, cash.

This demand is for increased insuring facilities on the stock mutual plan. The stock mutual plan of insurance has been given much prominence and made popular by the persistent hostility of the Southeastern Tariff Association. The agents of The Southern Stock Mutual company claim that they are unable now to accommodate the insurance that is brought to them, as the Southern Stock Mutual, conforming to the safe rules of underwriting, writes only a limited amount of insurance on any one building, or in any one block or locality.

By the organization of the new company double the amount of insurance can be accommodated, and the present saving in the cost of insurance under the stock mutual plan can be doubled. The new company will pursue the same policy as the Southern Stock Mutual, will write the same class of risks and will pay dividends to policy holders.

OFFICERS OF THE COMPANY.

The following compose the officers of The Underwriters' Mutual:

President, J. Van Lindley; Vice President, E. P. Wharton; Secretary and Treasurer, A. W. McAlister.

DIRECTORS OF THE COMPANY.

J. M. Worth, Asheboro; R. P. Walker, Asheville; J. S. Spencer, Wm. E. Holt, B. D. Heath, J. P. Caldwell, D. A. Tompkins, Charlotte; J. W. Cannon, Concord; J. S. Carr, Durham; D. F. Caldwell, L. M. Scott, J. M. Walker, J. M. Hendrix, R. C. Vaughn, W. P. Beall, J. Y. Joyner, E. P. Wharton, A. W. McAlister, Greensboro; G. A. Norwood, Jr., Goldsboro; A. A. Shuford, Hickory; J. Van Lindley, Pomona; W. H. Worth, H. W. Jackson, Robt. C. Strong, Carey J. Hunter, Raleigh; J. H. Ruffin, J. N. Sherrod, M. R. Braswell, Rocky Mount; H. W. Fries, Salem.

The names of the officers and directors are sufficient guarantee of the strength of the Underwriters Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

The record made in three years by the Southern Stock Mutual, and the dividend to policy holders of 20 per cent declared last evening proves the wisdom and benefits of the stock mutual plan. The Telegram wishes the Underwriters Mutual equal growth and success with the Southern Stock Mutual.

SOME CHANGES.

The Southside Pharmacy Sold to Drs. Stamey and Grissom.

Yesterday afternoon a deal, which has been considered for some time, was consummated in which the Southside Pharmacy changed owners. The former owners, Messrs. Richardson & Fariss have sold out to Dr. E. L. Stamey and Rev. Dr. W. L. Grissom, and the style of the new firm will be Stamey & Grissom.

Messrs. Richardson & Fariss will continue their up-town store, while the new firm will continue business at the present stand of Southside Pharmacy, and Mr. John K. McIlhenny will continue to compound prescriptions and dispense drugs in his usual prompt and accurate manner. We wish for the new firm abundant success. Both of the new owners are well known, popular and valuable citizens of Greensboro.

The Sample Brown Mercantile company has bought out the dry goods business of the Cox-Ferree company, and will run both places. We understand that Mr. T. D. Sherwood will manage the dry goods store, while Mr. Brown will conduct his present stand, and have general oversight of both places.

Mr. Brown has struggled with adverse fortunes in the past, but by dint of pluck and business sagacity, is climbing to the top. The Telegram congratulates him and wishes for his company increased success in the enlarged field.

We have not learned in what business the retiring merchants, Messrs. Cox and Ferree will engage, but we wish for them the highest measure of success and prosperity.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News from Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU, HIGH POINT, N. C., Jan. 21, '98.

The meetings which have been held at the Friends church by Rev. David E. Sampson and Miss Annie Armitage closed last night. The meetings have been a complete success and they are pleased with the result. Both are strong preachers. Miss Armitage preached a very effective farewell sermon last night. They go to East Bend where they will begin a series of meetings next Sunday.

The High Point opera house opens tonight with an entertainment by the Archdale cornet band. Two hours of solid fun is guaranteed to everyone attending. The opera house has been fitted up in metropolitan style. A handsome piano, comfortable chairs, etc., have been added. There will doubtless be a crowded house.

Arthur York, who has been clerking ing the New York racket store for some time, left this morning for his home at Fallston.

W. H. Ragan, R. F. Dalton and Charles Ragan arrived in the city this morning on No. 11.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Davis are spending the day in Greensboro.

R. R. Little, of the Southern Stock-Mutual insurance company of Greensboro, is here today on business.

There was quite an excitement here yesterday over a dog supposed to be mad. No doubt he was mad, because two other dogs were fighting him, but he did not have hydrophobia. Two fine dogs were killed on account of having been bitten by the supposed mad dog.

Miss Emma Newby has returned from Sexto, Ind., where she has been on an extended visit.

Will Worth, who has been firing at Spencer, returned home yesterday.

Miss May McAlister, of Asheboro, passed through this morning en route to Charlotte.

C. Bodenhamer and wife, of Winston, are visiting A. H. Crouch.

Mrs. Dr. J. E. Cartland left this morning for Greensboro and Guilford College.

S. Bryant, of Randleman, is in the city today.

Mrs. Laughenour, of Salem who has been visiting Mrs. R. C. Charles, left this morning for her home.

Bound Over For Stealing Blankets.

Last night Mr. E. B. Adkins, with his wagon and team, was encamped near Colfax, and in some way his blankets were stolen. Three suspicious looking negroes were spotted, and followed to Greensboro.

Today about noon they were spied walking down the Southern Railway track and Policeman Scott and Ex-sheriff Cook hid at the end of a box car and nabbed two of them as they came by. The other one made a dash to get away. Mr. Scott put his nippers on the two already caught and Sheriff Cook and Baggage Master Collins, who happened to be close by, gave chase and soon returned with the third man.

They were carried before 'Squire Eckel and bound over to court for larceny. In default of bail they will lie in jail to await the sentence of the presiding judge at the next term of court. Their names are Will Wicker, Lodger Hill and Henry Palmer, and and claim they are from the eastern part of the state.

Wicker was also bound over in a case for carrying a concealed weapon.

Death This Afternoon.

After a lingering illness of several months, Mrs. N. A. Hanner died at her home on McCulloch street this afternoon at two o'clock. She was a consistent member of the M. P. Church. The exact time for the funeral has not been announced, but we are informed that the interment will be made at Tabernacle church.

Mrs. Hanna leaves a husband, but no children. She was a sister of County Commissioner, W. H. Ragan, of High Point. We extend condolence to those who are so sadly bereft of a loved one.

A SAD HOME-COMING.

A Marriage That the Groom Says Was Not an Elopement.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Winston, N. C. Jan. 21—A telegram has been received at Walkertown announcing the death of Mrs. Bettie Christian in Arizona and stating that her remains were enroute to her father James Moir, at the above mentioned place. She eloped with Robert Christian, a traveling man, and went west about a year ago. The telegram does not state the cause of her death.

R. H. Smith, a merchant, and Miss Nettie Hairston, both of Pruntis Va., were married here last night. The prospective bride and groom came in on the Norfolk and Western railroad and drove immediately to the Terry House where after some trouble experienced in getting license they were married about 11:45 last night.

The groom insists that this is no runaway, but they having decided without opposition of parents to come to Winston, be married and return home immediately. The party including Mr. William Scott, left on the 8:30 train this morning for home.

CHINATOWN IS MOURNING.

The Oracle of Joss Joins His Ancestors.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Jan. 21.—Quong Pong, the celebrated Chinese necromancer and physician, died this morning at the Hudson Street Hospital, of consumption. Quong Pong posed as an oracle of Great God Joss and claimed to be the dispenser of all good and evil things. He was forty years old. His death has thrown all Chinatown into mourning.

TERRIBLE SLAUGHTER.

The Insurgents and Spaniards Fight With the Usual Casualties.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Havana, Jan. 21—News from Manzillo reports an important engagement between the combined Spanish columns and a numerous rebel force of Sabana Yaragana. The insurgents were dispersed with one dead. Three Spaniards were killed and eight wounded.

Warm Time Ahead.

Col. Olds writes the Observer: It is quite amusing to observe the way in which the governor gives the "Pritchard Populists" the marble heart. Chas. Fagan, assistant clerk to the railroad commission, was a melancholy instance, and Rev. Dr. Babb is another. When the latter went to see the governor and asked why he was bounced without a hearing, the governor said coolly thae he did not "have to find places for Skinner men." And now these "Skinner men" are saying that when the next legislature meets it will give the governor the liveliest 60 days he ever had in all his life. Such is their language.

HE WAS OF GOOD FAMILY.

The Judge Wanted the Governor to Handle With Care.

A short time ago a sheriff was taking to the penitentiary a trio of prisoners sent down from one of the up-country counties. One of the prisoners was a woman, one a man so badly crippled that he had to hobble on crutches, and the other was a stout young negro buck about seventeen years old, black as a rainy night on the dark of the moon, and with the traditional protuberance of lip. When the conductor took up the ticket of his shrieveship he addressed him a courteous question with reference to his charges. The sheriff pointed them out and added with reference to the young negro that he had a letter from the judge who sentenced him to Governor Russell asking that the young negro be assigned to a reformatory and adding that he was "of excellent family and beyond doubt if properly handled would develop into a useful citizen and become an honor to the community." The sheriff was asked whether this letter tenderly setting forth the family tree of the young scion made any recommendations with reference to the woman or the cripple. He replied that they were not mentioned in the letter from His Honor to His Excellency.

A HORRIBLE COLLISSION.

Trains Collide Killing 15 Passengers and Four Trainmen.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Charleston, S. C., Jan. 21—The Florida Special on the Atlantic Coast Line collided with the local train near the little hamlet of Ashley Junction, just outside of this city.

The accident occurred about half past eight o'clock this morning. Fifteen passengers were killed out right and the engineers and firemen of both trains lost their lives.

The accident was the result of a misunderstanding of the orders.

The Maryland Fight.

Annapolis, Jan. 20—The general assembly of Maryland, in joint session today, took three ballots for United States Senator without result. They were as follows:

First ballot—McComas 40, Shaw 18, Shyrock 2, Gorman 47, Parren 3, Mulliken 2, Findlay 2. Total, 114. Necessary to a choice, 58; absent 3.

Second ballot—McComas 40, Shaw 1, Shyrock 2, Gorman 47, Parran 3, Findlay 2, Mulliken 2, Barber 17. Total, 114.

Third ballot—McComas 40, Shaw 18, Gorman 47, Findlay 2, Parran 3, Mulliken 2, Shyrock 2. Total, 114.

The effect of today's work is to leave the solution of the senatorial problem as much in doubt and the end of the struggle apparently as far off as it was before the balloting began.

THE ASPECT IS WARLIKE.

French And English Warships Sail For The Orient.

RUSSIA'S ATTITUDE THREATENING

England and Russia Contending For The Mastery--It Will Be Peace or War in a Few Days.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

London, Jan. 21—The aspect assumed by the eastern crisis is decidedly warlike. Reinforcements for the English and French fleets now in Chinese waters are under orders to sail today. The news comes from Yokohama that the Japanese fleet of nine ships will sail for the Chinese coast within six days after it has been inspected by the Mikado. Its supposed destination is is Wei-Hai-Wei.

Russia's threatening attitude toward China is the immediate cause of the crisis.

The competition between England and Russia for ascendancy in Chinese affairs has reached a definite issue and will be decided within a few days or result in immediate war. There is the highest authority for the statement that Japan is acting in the fullest accord with England.

DEGENERATE REPUBLICANISM.

The republican party has always claimed, and not without some show of justice, that it was the champion of human liberty. It has claimed also that it possessed the courage of its convictions coupled with a degree of executive ability not to be found in any other party.

The republican party to day in its management of matters of grave public import, whether domestic or foreign has shown the most reckless disregard of human liberty coupled with the most abject cowardice.

The party began by truckling to the men at home who have the longest purses; by selling the control of national finances for large contributions to a campaign fund; it has ended by becoming a silent partner in the most blistering shame that has marked the course of history since the Duke of Alva butchered in the Netherlands or since Poland was torn from the map of nations.

It has for years kept power and place through concessions in the way of a high protective tariff to wealthy manufacturers; by prostituting the pension system until "filthy lucre" is invested with a new wealth of meaning; by pandering to the basest prejudices of a purblind constituency.

When the question of standards could no longer be postponed; when the country rang with insistent demands for its consideration; when men of courage took their stand openly and steadfastly, what did the republican party do? It perpetrated a platform that was a miserable straddle and shuffled out of an open declaration. It was all things to all men.

When Congress met in the present session a country which had waited with impatient hope for that event, believing that this country would not fall to the level of England's shame in the Armenian matter, expected that some action would be taken in reference to Cuba. But the immense ends of humanity are postponed or brushed aside in deference to the petty rules of a partisan majority.

Republican representatives have cringed before a tyrant of their own making and the party has cringed and quavered before the responsibility of a possible conflict. Where is the courage, the virility, the humanity and the love of liberty boasted by the party of Lincoln, even of Seward if you will?

Republicanism today is typified by its two most noted exponents: William McKinley and Marcus A. Hanna. Mr. McKinley, if a private citizen, would be termed a moral coward; Mr. Hanna is a shameless and self-convicted boodler. It is the old case of the tree and its fruit. The New York Herald epitomized republican policy when it said: "Wait till trade is dull to take steps in the Cuban matter."

And this is degenerate republicanism.

M. Zola at least has the consolation of knowing that after what the French Academy and the critics have done to him he can bid the courts do their worst with a superb haughtiness.

Our ancient and esteemed contemporary, the Winston Republican, tickles itself to this tune: "The Republican was not criticising any one, but it did hurl back a false charge against the republican party, into the face of an unscrupulous democratic press." Well done, well done. Prithee, swat them yet once again, dear Nestor.

The dirtiest piece of blackguardism that has appeared in public print in the state in a decade comes out in the Caucasian over the signature of Thos. B. Russell. The editor of the Wilmington Messenger is to be congratulated on possessing the enmity of such warmints.

The Southern Stock Mutual Insurance Company and all connected therewith are to be congratulated on the excellent showing made yesterday. The success of this home company is a matter of just pride to Greensboro. May the new company do as well.

If Mr. Hanna imagined that the elongation of his limb was to cease after his election to the Senate the investigation committee has convinced him by this time of how lamentably he underestimated the ingenuity of the Ohio legislator.

The fact that six senators stayed in to the finish of Senator Morgan's speech shows that all the Spartan-like fortitude has not escaped the body or that there is an alarming spread of deafness.

The Caucasian of this week has an unusual amount of truthful and entertaining matter: one full page is devoted to the publication of Wake county's annual statement.

Ewart's attitude on the the Lodge bill will hardly make him persona non grata to this district if he is alright otherwise.

The insurgents of Cuba are demoralized by the terrible onslaught of a new manifesto.

A Hard Road To Travel.

The Utica Observer permits itself to speak of "the long-winded harangues of the Cy Sulloways." There is but one Cy Sulloway, the Hon. Cyrus Adams Sulloway, the peaked statesman of New Hampshire. If to less aspiring natures he seems long winded they forget what a distance his wind has to cover before it issues from his gusty lips. When an orator is eighty eight inches high in his feet, his eloquence must be pardoned if it is somewhat travel stained and weary when it lands itself in the listener's ears. The distance, as the crow flies, from the Hon. Cyrus Sulloway's lungs to his lips is computed by the United States Coast Survey as longer than the Marine Railway.—New York Sun.

BETTING ON EWART.

J. Wiley Ready to Bank on the Sage of Dun Craggan.

J. Wiley Shook rushed in town this morning for the news of the week, and to post up on the judgeship fight. He was much pleased over the information that Senator Pritchard was out of the race. When asked who he thought would be the successful aspirant, he promptly replied that he would bet his salary on Judge Ewart.

When asked if Judge Ewart's appointment would give satisfaction to the party, he said: "It certainly ought, as he did more for the party while a representative in Congress than all other Rehublican members of the House have done since the war. Personally, Col. Boyd is my first choice, but Judge Ewart is by far my second choice."—Asheville Citizen.

No Election Yet.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 20—The Democratic legislative caucus held to select the party candidate for the United States Senate, met again tonight, but did not nominate. The first ballot resulted: McMillin 37; Turley 32; Taylor 19.

DR. J. H. WHEELER, Dentist,

Greensboro, N. C.

Office first door south of postoffice.

TOSSED BY A LOCOMOTIVE.

A Boy Bicyclist Tossed Fifty Feet Into the Air.

Paterson, N. J., Jan. 19.—Frank Lutton, 13 years old, a son of William Lutton of 664 East Twenty-ninth street, Superintendent of the Dexter & Lambert Silk Company's mills, was run down by a locomotive today at the Broadway crossing of the Erie Railroad, while crossing on a bicycle and escaped without any apparent serious injury. When he arrived at the crossing a west-bound train was passing and the gates were closed. He balanced himself on his wheel by holding on to one of the gates, and the moment the last car had whisked by him he ducked under the gates and started to ride across the tracks.

He had just reached the center of the east-bound rails when a train which he had not noticed struck the bicycle. The bicycle was buckled up by the cowcatcher and young Lutton was thrown fifty feet in the air. He curled up like a cat and fell in a vacant lot alongside the track. He was picked up apparently unhurt, though complaining of injury to his back. Train officials placed him on the train and took him to the station at Market street. An ambulance had been summoned to meet the train, but Lutton said he was all right and refused to be taken to the hospital. He was removed to his home, where he is being attended by the family physician.

CORNELL PROFESSOR BUNCOED.

He Sent a Check for $1 to a "Poor but Ambitious" Lady.

Ithaca, N. Y., Jan. 19.—Prof. T. Frederick Crane of Cornell University several weeks ago received a letter purporting to come from a young woman in New Hampshire. The letter said that the writer was poor but ambitious for an education, and desired to come to Cornell. Appeal was made to the professor to assist this ambition by sending the cost of a subscription to the Ladies' Home Journal for one year to the writer. Sympathizing with the laudable desire expressed, the Professor promptly sent his check for $1 to the address given.

The weeks passed on, and in the pressure of duties the incident was forgotten until the Professor's attention was called to a check signed by him for $91 sent by a Pennsylvania bank to the First National of this city for payment. The Professor recognized the check for $1 which he had sent to the ambitious but poor young lady petitioner. A figure 9 had been placed in front of the figure 1, and the word ninety prefixed to the word one. The local bank will endeavor to trace back the wanderings of the check which grew so big; but the loss will fall on the Professor, who left the inviting blank space in front of the small amounts he wrote and marked.

TURBINES FOR TORPEDO BOATS.

The Navy Department to Try the New Engine.

Washington, Jan. 18.—The Navy Department has ordered a trial to be held at the New York Navy Yard of the steam turbine engine, with a view to the adption of the type on some of new torpedo boats. With a steam turbine and oil fuel the engineers say it will be possible to secure a far higher speed in torpedo boats than prevails now. The Turbinia, an English-made boat, developed the phenominal speed of thirty-two knots, and it is believed, considering that she is only half the size of the Cushing, that when the invention is perfected it will be practicable to attain at least two more knots with ships which now are not fitted with it.

School Chart Case.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Mebane says he is determined to break up the school chart swindle. Today he received the following telegram from Supervisor Paul Long, of Northampton county:

"Chart men will go to mandamus proceedings. I am not able to stand suit. Can board bear expenses?"

To this telegram Superintendent Mebane replied:

"It is the duty of the board to bring suit to protect the school fund. Stand by the children."—Raleigh Cor. Charlotte Observer.

An Anson Boy Accidentally Shot.

Wadesboro, Jan. 20—Plight, the 12-year-old son of Mr. E. S. Marsh, who lives on Mr. G. W. Huntley's farm, south of Wadesboro, while out rabbit-hunting this afternoon, accidentally shot himself. He was carrying his gun with the barrel hanging over his shoulder, muzzle down, and by some means the gun was discharged, emptying its whole contents into the boy's right thigh. It was a pretty ugly wound it caused, and amputation may result.—Charlotte Observer.

Superintendent Mewboorne finds that there is now $900 of the penitentiary library fund, the accumulation of several years. The fund is almost entirely from the 10-cent fee for the admission of visitors.

THE TALK IS OF EWART.

Glenn's Appointment Favorably Reported.

A Washington special to the Charlotte Observer says:

Great interest is felt here in the appointment of Judge Dick's successor. Mr. Lusk is endorsed by Senator Pritchard and Representative Pearson, but the fact that he has nearly reached the age of retirement will be, it is believed, a fatal objection to his appointment. The President reiterates his desire to appoint Judge Ewart, but the speech he made in the Fifty-first Congress in opposition to the Lodge election bill causes the President to hesitate about making the appointment, apprehending that the Senate may not confirm the nomination on that account. He denounced the bill as a "damnable and vicious piece of legislation," and characterized its reputed author, Mr. Lodge, now a member of the Senate as a hypocrite and a spoilsman. Following Mr. Ewart a day or two later, President McKinley, then leader of the House, declared that "no honest man could afford to oppose the bill and that no lover of fair play could object to it." This deadly parallel is giving Mr. Ewart some uneasiness. The President, however, it is said, is disposed to regard Mr. Ewart's speech as an indiscretion, but republicans, it seems, do not take that view of it. The defeat of the Blair educational bill in the Senate Mr. Ewart denounced as a cowardly abandonment of the Chicago platform. In this connection he made a bitter attack on Speaker Reed. It was in this sensational speech that he bewildered and paralyzed the Republicans by the bold declaration that "elections in North Carolina are absolutely honest." Despite the apprehension as to the effect of this speech on his confirmation, it is believed here that he will receive the appointment.

The Glenn and Chadbourn nominations for postmaster at Greensboro and Wilmington were favorably reported today.

CRETE AND ARMENIA.

Will England Take Action Alone to End the Disgraceful Situation?

London, Jan. 19—Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, made another speech at Liverpool tonight. He referred to the Cretan and Armenian questions in a manner suggesting that Great Britain contemplates single-handed action in connection therewith. Deploring the importance of the concert of Europe, he said:

"It is a discredit to all the powers of Europe. Most of us must be coming to the conclusion that the present position is growing intolerable and cannot be allowed to continue indefinitely. There is risk in taking any alternative course, but it may be—I hope it will not be—our duty to reserve our right and independence to take isolated action.

Big Fire at Aberdeen.

Aberdeen, Jan. 20—Fire was discovered in the engine room of the Aberdeen lumber company's at 4:40 this evening. The flames spread rapidly and in 20 minutes the entire plant was enveloped in flames.

The mills had under cover many thousands of feet of valuable dressed lumber. The large surface planes and dry house alone were saved.

The loss on machinery, building and stock is estimated at $35,000 to $40,000. No insurance.—Charlotte Observer.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Preserved ginger at Lindau's. Read ad. today.

An eight room house for rent. See penny ads.

W. H. Snow, of High Point, was in the city today.

Tyre Glenn, the new appointee to the postmastership, is still confined to his home with lagrippe.

Chase McLaughlin, representing the Baltimore Newspaper Union, Baltimore, Md., was in the city today.

The Italian band, which has been making music in the hotel offices for two or three nights, went to Danville today.

The nice weather and warm sunshine today enticed Howard Gardner's fisherman, with the large codfish on his back, out on the sidewalk.

There was a "good run" of custom at the Benbow last night. Forty-four persons took supper there and forty-five registered for lodging.

Dr. and Mrs. Whitsett give an at home this evening to the members of the West Market Street Methodist Church choir and their friends.

Tom Rice has taken the agency for the Waverly bicycle and judging from the sample will make things lively in wheeling circles later in the year.

A load of terra cotta was seen going in the direction of Alamance church today, presumably for use in the public road improvement down there.

Why not put stepping stones across South Elm street where it joins Fayetteville? A large number of people on Arlington, Asheboro and other streets use this crossing. In bad weather it is extremely muddy.

The local agent of the Sun Life Insurance Company, of Canada, Mr. Doyle O'Hanlon, today received a check for $1,000, for Henrietta Garret, insurance on the life of her son, F. C. Albright, who died here a week or two ago. This is prompt business.

City Engineer Richardson is establishing the grade on West Sycamore street, between South Elm and Spring streets, with a view to grading it. In this connection we would suggest that S. Elm street, between Lee and Bragg, and Ashe, south of West Washington, all need attention.

Pastor Gay and family, of Centenary church, received a liberal pounding last night by members of that church. It was a surprise to the good man and family. A large quantity of good things were carried in, and there would have been more but some members of the church did not know of the intention of the others. Pastor Gay is appreciated by his people.

New Republican Paper.

The Morning Post is authority for the statement that a new republican paper will be started in Raleigh shortly. SOUTHERN STOCK-MUTUAL.

Extract from Annual Report of the Executive Committee.

The total premiums for the three years since organization have been $75,740.70. The total losses for the three years since organization have been $13,036.39. The losses for the three years have been 17 per cent. of the premium receipts. The average losses of other companies is 55 per cent. of the premium receipts. The Southern Stock Mutual has lowered this average 38 per cent.

The average annual expenses of the Southern Stock Mutual have been 34 per cent. of the premium receipts, 7 per cent. less than the average of other companies, which is 41 per cent. The expense ratio of some companies doing business in North Carolina is over 50 per cent. The reports of the insurance companies published by the secretary of state shows that the Southern Stock-Mutual is the most economically managed company in North Carolina.

Successful underwriting consists essentially in maintaining, at a low figure, those two items of losses and expenses. The net premium receipts for the company for the year have been $33,533.23. The losses have been $9,389.53, or 28 per cent. of the premium receipts. The net profits on the year's operations have been $13,245.34.

After making the usual apportionment of profits, the Guarantors' surplus stands at.....$8,115.23
The emergency fund (re-insurance reserve,)..... 17,819.16
Total ssets, incluing guarantors' bonds.....135,495.75

Your committee recommends that a dividend of 20 per cent. be declared to policy holders on annual policies for 1897, and of 6⅔ per cent. on three year policies in force.

GIVEN HIS CUE.

It Is Best to Let The Quiet Man Alone.

A game of billiards was in progress at the poolroom last night about eight or nine o'clock. A man named Allred from Randolph county and another party were playing. Shelley Pierce was lying on the other table near by. He spat upon Allred once or twice. Allred asked him what he meant by it and warned him to desist. Pierce replied that he spat upon him because he chose to do so and proposed to continne it. Allred went on with the game; Pierce repeated the performance; Allred turned and struck him with the cue he had in his hand. He laid the scalp open for a couple of inches diagonally above Pierce's right eye. Pierce desisted. Dr. Turner was called in and dressed the wound which was painful but not dangerous.

Allred was carried before the mayor, waived examination and gave bond for his appearance at the next term of the superior court. Pierce is only some eighteen or nineteen years old.

The Kind Which Wears.

One may canvass the list of comic operas covering a decade without finding a more perfect example of the all-round entertainment than "Wang," and it is this fact which has led to its great success. To begin with, the opera might be divested of its musical settings entirely and it would still remain an exceptionally bright, witty and interesting play, so simple and convincing is the story; so numerous and amusing are the incidents and so graphic and well contrasted are the characters, to say nothing of the atmosphere of ancient Siam and the peculiarly quaint and effective colorings of the various scenes. But in addition to all these merits is the music, which is the kind of music which wears and which grows in esteem even after one has heard it half a dozen times. Managers Shean and Roy have given it an elaborate staging of special scenery throughout, have costumed it with lavish richness, and have engaged an unusually large and competent company to interpret its fun and music, among the principals being Dan Packard, Laura Denio, Florence Brooks, Charles Burrows, Frank Casey and John Brooks. The chorus numbers fifty people, and has been chosen with extreme care.
